Amiga News

- Discussion - Amiga Global Alliance. David Pleasance's new Kickstarter for his AGA initiative has been launched AND cancelled! What do you think? It was mentioned that this concept has been talked about for 20 years or more! Most of the attendees think the community is doing fine without the AGA.
- Digital Retro Bay has their GoDRivE1200s in stock. This is a GoTek type drive that functions and installs in your A1200/500 while keeping the Original drive installed!! With shipping, it comes to around $120 USD.

Games

Marshall brought in his CD32 with a selection of games including the Misadventures of Flink! Flink was only released on the Sega Megadrive and CD32. The CD32 version is has fantastic CD sound and graphics. It's a platformer type game where you have to travel the levels to collect items, create spells, and complete the game. Unfortunately, the gameplay does seem to rely heavily on knowing the maps to successfully complete the level, resulting in a fair amount of trial-and-error gameplay. Still, it's worth checking out and giving it a try.
